CARNIDAE

As indicated under Milichiidae, this family is maintained distinct as in Papp (1984). There has been no recent work on the British fauna.

CARNUS Nitzsch, 1818
hemapterus Nitzsch, 1818

MEONEURA Rondani, 1856
bicuspidata Collin, 1930
flavifacies Collin, 1930
frata Collin, 1937
glaberrima Becker, 1910
neglecta Collin, 1930

lacteipennis (Fallén, 1823 - Agromyza)
lamellata Collin, 1930
minutissima (Zetterstedt, 1860 - Agromyza) neotiophila Collin, 1930 +
obscura (Fallén, 1823 - Agromyza)
prima (Becker, 1903 - Psalidotus)
seducta Collin, 1937
triangularis Collin, 1930
vagans (Fallén, 1823 - Agromyza)

BRAULIDAE

This family is here placed in Carnoidea, following the Nearctic Manual, while Papp (1984) placed it among the Ephydroidea.

BRAULA Nitzsch, 1818
coeca Nitzsch, 1818 +
schmitzi Örösi Pál, 1939

Added by Dobson (in press), Note 1

Notes

1. Braula schmitzi Örösi Pál, 1939 has been found among material of B. coeca pooled from samples submitted to the Central Science Laboratory by beekeepers, so their local provenance is unknown (Dobson, pers. comm.). It is provisionally presumed to be an introduction, although widespread in Europe.

TETHINIDAE

The discovery of Pelomyia has added a genus to the British list. Beschovski (1993) transferred most of the species included in Rhinoessa by Collin (1966) to Tethina, while Munari (1995) followed Collin's interpretation of their species composition, placing Rhinoessa as a subgenus of Tethina. Mathis & Munari (1996) are followed here in the recognition of two subfamilies; although they recognised Rhinoessa as a subgenus, they listed all species under Tethina, without indicating which species belonged to each subgenus. As Munari (1996) has accepted Beschovski's concept of Rhinoessa, this is also followed here but with subgeneric status provisionally maintained.
